

Erasmus+ Diary

Sunday 16th

On Sunday we left Aguilar at 2:00 am and arrived at Scordia at 11:30 am. Then I met the family of Beatrice. That day we ate lasagne and then we saw Scordia. It was a beautiful place, and in the evening we had pizza. It was better than the one in Spain.

Monday 17th

Today we went to the Consiglio Per La Ricerca E La Sperimentazione In Agricoltura where we picked and ate some oranges and then, at school, we did a group work about Charles V. For lunch this day, we went to the house of one of the Italians and had a barbecue, but on the way there it started to hail. Luckily, I was in a car, but others weren't, at least it did not take so long to stop.

Tuesday 18th

We went to Augusta, we saw an arch, and we left. Then we went to Syracuse, they explained things about the city and we saw the temple of Apollo. After that, we went to the Archaeological Park of Neapolis where we saw the theater and the Ear of Dionysius.

Wednesday 19th

Today we made a Charles V's ID card and then we learnt some basic Italian. Later we went to Militello and saw two churches there and one museum.

Thursday 20th

On Thursday we went to Etna and saw a crater. Later we went to Taormina and saw the theater.

Wednesday 21st

Today we went to Randazzo and saw some churches there. Then we went to Catania where we could see the Via Etnea, the Cattedrale di Sant'Agata and the Fontana dell'Elefante. At night there was a small party.

Saturday 22nd

On Saturday I went to eat in a restaurant with the host family; Adrián, Diego, Victor and Rubén also came. At night there was a farewell party.

Sunday 23rd

Today we left Scordia at 8:30 am and arrived in Aguilar at almost 8.
